HARDWARE SPRINGS

Century Spring Corporation maintains the finest line of packaged replacement springs in the hardware industry. Our reputation is founded on quality, selection and providing the highest level of customer support possible. Our capabilities include:

- Same day shipping
- 100% fill rates
- EDI order processing

Self-service merchandising displays have proven the most effective and efficient method of selling repair springs. Displays ship with a vinyl planogram backer and a one-piece wire rack combination. The planograms are printed with our part numbers, making it simple to order refills and keep the display organized, and the wire rack eliminates individual peghooks and allows the spring selection to utilize a minimal amount of wall space.

Century Spring is the only company offering a complete selection of packaged stainless steel springs. Stainless material is designed to resist corrosion and perform better than carbon steel material in higher temperature environments. Stainless steel springs are packaged in white and blue bags, making them recognizable and easily separated from our carbon steel springs.

All resale items are labeled with the Century Spring part number, product description and UPC number which keeps the springs separated and eliminates time wasted identifying items at the cashier. All springs are taken from our Industrial Inventory and meet the same quality standards demanded by the business trade.

There is a proven demand for replacement springs in the hardware industry and Century Spring's assortments contain an excellent selection of repair springs for:
